

Kansas State Historical Society.

This is an institution recognized by the laws of the State of Kansas. The character of the work of the Society is thus stated in its constitution: "The object of the Society shall be to collect, embody, arrange, and preserve books, pamphlets, maps, charts, manuscripts, papers, paintings, statuary, and other materials, illustrative of the history of Kansas in particular, and of the country generally; to procure from the early pioneers, narratives of the events relative to the early settlement of Kansas; and of the early explorations, the Indian occupancy, overland travel, and immigration to the Territory and the West; to gather all information calculated to exhibit faithfully the antiquities, and the past and present resources and progress of the State, and to take steps to promote the study of history by lectures and other available means."

The collections of the Society are the property of the State; and provision is made by law by which apartments are furnished in the State House for their deposit and care, and where they are open at all times to the public.
